Your self generated Ai reports you linked above will not stand in court against a 3rd party forensic analysis.

It is not childhood behavior. You have sent nothing but threats to me and Vardar. I have also ran it through multiple 3rd party sources. You are attacking my place of work as well.

I am not sending any requested documents unless you file a lawsuit. I know that is it not copied and have no problem proving it in My website work has nothing to do with my work at Church of the Highlands. If you want me to work with you I would kindly ask that you do not threaten me with CIA agents, attacking my place of work full time, and more.

Ok Dylan I didn't want to have to take this to the next step. I tried to give you a chance to be honest.

Kristian, thank you for connecting us. I'm using voice to text so it's probably not going to spell your name correctly, if I were you, I would request a refund from Dylan and I will now be pursuing Dylan individually.

I have a Drive folder I can send you K with enough information. You can request a refund in full from him and I'll connect to you with someone else that can build you a website that's not copyrighted.

If you think this is childhood behavior I am going through the proper channels. I know my ground. I know what I built and I have no problem proving it in court. There are clear differences in design, how people fill out information, and more.

It is my understanding that you have consistently been going after Kristian as well and his company.

But if you expect me to work with you I would ask that you don't call me childlike behavior, attack my place of work, and use CIA agents as a means of a threat

There's no threats involved here you're making that up. I just let you know that I had a third-party analysis done by a very credible source. If you want to continue back-and-forth that's fine. I've already contacted the proper channels. I already have a Google Drive. I already had all of this prepared before I asked you. I was giving you a chance to be honest so I wouldn't take it any further.

I've just said I won't share the code. I don't appreciate you calling me childlike, attacking my place of work, etc. Everything else can be handled in court.

Nothing manipulative at all about it. In the professional world that is how things are handled.

I do realize we can see your code without you giving it to me?

Yes I do. I have a computer science engineering degree

+1 (270) 399-5528 Add

I'm asking you to give me copies of your conversations with your AI both ChatGPT and Claude because that's how you built your website. That's also in your code. Those are downloadable conversations that would only include what you use to build the website which technically K owns just so you know bc he paid you that's verified by my attorney

I'm done responding said my peace you don't hear from me again.

K if you don't want to be included you can tell Dylan to take site down, if it's not down by tonight, then both of you are being pursued equally.

Like I said. I will not be sending things over. If you feel the need it can be handled in court. I did not ask any AI to copy your site. I did not know about your company at all.

You will not send things to me either. So im sorry that you feel the need that I have to send you anything when you feel the need you don't have to.

But the proper way to handle this is in court and let the court decide. Its been nothing but empty threats from you about my character

Looks like we cannot handle this as adults so I will sit down this evening and I will put the sides next to each other which I have not done yet and I will decide how we're gonna move forward on this. Kelsey sorry for all you have to go through and Dylan thank you for all the work you did.

Examining your behavior and making threats about your character are two different things, you are responsible for how your actions reflect and how it makes you perceived by other people

I just emailed everything over to my attorney Howard Glick who will be communicating with both of you directly going forward I do not want a another response from either of you in this thread unless it's to let me know the site is down, I have more important things to do.

Hey please no more communication among the two please delete this text and I will take care of it from my end.

Thank you both.

FORMAL NOTICE AND DEMAND TO CEASE DEFAMATORY STATEMENTS AND INTERFERENCE

Date: July 11, 2026

VanGo Luxe Transportation
VanGo Luxe LLC

RE: Formal Demand to Cease Defamatory Statements, Harassment, and Interference with Business Relationships

Dear VanGo Luxe Team:

This letter serves as a formal demand that you immediately cease and desist from making false, misleading, or unsubstantiated statements regarding me, my professional conduct, my business activities, and the website developed for Vardar Transportation. Over the course of numerous text messages and communications, you have repeatedly alleged that I copied, stole, or misappropriated intellectual property, code, design elements, or proprietary materials belonging to VanGo Luxe. You have further claimed to possess evidence proving these allegations while simultaneously refusing to provide any such evidence for review. In addition to the allegations themselves, your communications have included repeated references to my employer, statements questioning my honesty and professional character, demands for proprietary development records, demands for private AI conversations and development documentation, and threats of escalation unless specific actions were taken regarding a website that you claim infringes upon your intellectual property rights. To date, no court, arbitrator, forensic examiner, or governmental authority has determined that any infringement occurred. Despite repeated assertions that evidence exists, no evidence has been provided to me for review. Accordingly, you are hereby demanded to:

1. Cease and desist from making unsubstantiated factual accusations.

You must immediately cease representing as established fact that I copied, stole, misappropriated, or unlawfully used VanGo Luxe intellectual property, code, designs, branding, or proprietary materials unless and until such allegations have been substantiated through competent evidence or determined through the appropriate legal process. Nothing in this demand is intended to prevent you from pursuing any lawful claim through appropriate legal channels.

2. Refrain from involving my employer or professional affiliations.

Any dispute concerning the Vardar Transportation website is unrelated to my employment. Accordingly, you are requested to refrain from contacting, threatening to contact, or otherwise involving Church of the Highlands, its employees, leadership, vendors, or affiliated organizations in this matter.

3. Refrain from interfering with unrelated business relationships and professional affiliations.

While you are entitled to communicate with parties directly involved in your dispute concerning Vardar Transportation, you are hereby requested to refrain from contacting unrelated clients, prospective clients, business partners, vendors, contractors, or individuals associated with Church of the Highlands for the purpose of discussing, publicizing, or repeating unproven allegations regarding my professional conduct, business practices, or development work.

4. Preserve all evidence.

You are instructed to preserve all emails, text messages, reports, screenshots, analyses, recordings, social media posts, website captures, correspondence with attorneys, consultants, contractors, and any other materials relating to these allegations.

5. Direct future legal claims through proper legal channels.

If you believe you possess a valid legal claim, it should be pursued through licensed legal counsel and the appropriate legal process. I will not engage in further informal accusations, threats, or demands outside of those channels.

For clarity, I deny the allegations that I copied or misappropriated VanGo Luxe intellectual property. I further deny any allegation that I intentionally replicated proprietary code, designs, branding, or protected materials belonging to your company.

Nothing in this correspondence should be construed as an admission of liability, wrongdoing, infringement, or violation of law. All rights, claims, remedies, and defenses are expressly reserved.

Should the conduct described above continue, including further defamatory statements, interference with business relationships, or efforts to involve my employer in this dispute, I reserve the right to pursue all available remedies under applicable law.

Sincerely,

Dylan Williams
